

Fall 2017 CAES Undergraduate Research Initiative CALL FOR PROPOSALS

The College of Agricultural and Environmental Sciences invites CAES students and their CAES research mentors to apply for funding for the 2017-18 CAES Undergraduate Research Initiative. Application deadline is Wednesday, August 30, 2017.

Guidelines for the CAES Undergraduate Research Initiative include:

- Successful applicants will receive $500 to be used as student hourly wages and $500 for faculty mentors to use for research expenses.
- Students are required to participate in the CAES Undergraduate Research Symposium on April 11, 2018.

Students receiving CURO assistantships are not eligible for additional funding from this program. CAES students conducting research under a faculty mentor in another college, while not eligible for funding under this program, are eligible to compete in the CAES Research Symposium on April 11, 2018.
